Delirious City Greets Couple

Half-Million Torontonians
Jam 18 Miles of Royal Route

By LLOYD McDONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Oct. 12 (CP)—Half a million Torontonians tonight engulfed the Royal couple in a welcome that dwarfed anything their Canadian tour has yet produced.

It surpassed the Royal visit of 1929. It left even 3,000 police dazed. Veteran reporters who have covered the tour and many major events for years back united in calling it "fantastic."

In the swarming streets around City Hall, stretcher bearers carried away an estimated 80 persons—none seriously injured or ill—who fainted or collapsed under the tension and impact of Toronto's initial official welcome to Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh.

As for the Princess and her husband, they were heard to say they were thrilled that never before had they seen anything like this 18-mile greeting in the dusk and the early night, one that lined people for miles and jammed them into cavernous Bay Street and the other streets opening on City Hall.

It was almost dark by 6 p.m. when the Royal party was to have arrived at the City Hall. At that time, the procession, delayed by dense throngs on the highway, was just entering the city. There, after the Princess could be seen only as a blur through the closed windows of the car. The Prince at times waved to the crowd but Her Royal Highness, apparently chilled by an earlier drive in an open car, was snuggled back into the recesses of the machine.

The time allowed for the 18-mile drive was 30 minutes. But spectators, pressing in on the roadway slowed the drive so much that it took 90 minutes.

Along the southern lakeshore drive and up the canyon of Bay Street, centre of the city's financial life, the Royal procession moved through cheering throngs which a few minutes earlier had shown restiveness at the delay. At the City Hall the flags and banding were saluted in brilliant floodlights and the Royal couple could be clearly seen as they mounted the steps for the city's official greeting.

The Princess wore the brown ensemble that she had worn throughout the day, with dark brown fitted velvet coat. The Duke—as in full dress naval uniform.

Royal Couple Enrapture Eastern Ontario Towns

TORONTO, Oct. 12 (CP)—A Prince and Princess swept through eastern Ontario today and swept Ontarians before them.

In a fast-paced trip from Ottawa on this the fifth day of a month's tour of Canada, Princess Elizabeth and her smiling consort, Prince Philip, were blessed throughout by clear, blue skies and a brilliant sun. They captured, in turn, Cornwall, Brockville, Kingston, Belleville, Trenton and finally, Toronto.

It was a moving, tiring day, but the young couple, possessed of "remarkable stamina," as members of their party put it, seemed as fresh at the close as they did in the beginning.

It was a day of formal receptions, but here and there the spontaneous enthusiasm of a people anxious to greet the woman-who some day will be Queen could not be restrained by official ceremonial.

It was a day for the little people generally. It began in the early morning darkness after the Royal train bore the prince and princess out of Ottawa.

Only in Kingston, site of a big military establishment, were the crowds, comparatively, staid and quiet.

At Cornwall, 75 miles south of Ottawa, an estimated 35,000 persons saw the prince and princess walk around the railway station platform for 15 minutes. Several hundred yards west of Brockville station is a water bank where all westbound trains stop. The Royal train today also did so and the crowd broke through the barriers and ran down the track. The Royal car was surrounded for a few minutes and the prince and princess waved cheerily to all.

Trenton's population of some 15,000 was swelled by thousands upon thousands of visitors from the surrounding area. Estimates of the crowd on hand at the railway station and lining the five-mile route to the R.C.A.P. station ran as high as 100,000.

Quakers Find Russians Contented but Ignorant

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 12 (AP)—A Quaker peace mission to Moscow has found Russians are "contented and adequately clothed and fed" but completely ignorant of conditions outside their country.

Such was the report of one of the members of the mission, Paul S. Cadbury, head of the chocolate company of Cadbury and Fry in England.

Cadbury gave a personal report on the Quaker mission to the American Friends service committee here today.

The Briton was one of seven British business and professional leaders—all Quakers—who asked permission to enter Russia on a peace mission. They spent two weeks in Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev in July as guests of the Russian government.

The invitation was sought, Cadbury said, on the strength of the Quakers' 300 years of opposition to war. The delegation was given free movement and frank interviews, he said.

The court decided no action would be taken against the ship's other officers, who were following the captain's orders.

Crews Detain
Chinese Ships

HONG KONG, Oct. 13 (Saturday) (CP)—Crews of seven Chinese ships flying the Canadian flag were reported today to be detaining the vessels in Communist China, apparently for fear of seizure because of a $12,000,000 debt to Canada.

Couple to Decide How to Vacation

Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip probably will not decide until they reach Victoria how they want to spend their three-day Vancouver Island holiday after public appearances here Monday, Oct. 22.

Reports from eastern Canada already indicate that the couple may be tiring under rigors of the overwhelming welcome given them wherever they go.

Five weather may cause the Royal couple to follow tentative plans to spend their holiday at Eagle Crest Lodge.

The Royal visitors may wish to fish from Lieut. Gov. Clarence Wallace's yacht Wallichy. The lieutenant-governor has invited the Princess and Prince to be his guests on the yacht and the trip is being kept in shipshape condition.

If the weather is unfavorable, the Royal couple may decide to remain in seclusion at Government House.

In this case they may want to squeeze dance again as they did at Rideau Hall in Ottawa as

Hunters Urged to Heed Restrictions

Not every hunter will be as successful as the two in this picture, but chances are that plenty of pheasants will fall as the one in the circle is doing before nightfall tonight. The pheasant and willow grouse seasons open at dusk today and pre-season reports have been generally favorable.

Saanich and Central Saanich will doubtless see the usual influx of hunters from Victoria and District but restrictions are many and hunters would be well advised to acquaint themselves with them.

In Saanich, a permit to discharge firearms is all that is needed but most of the land has been posted and hunters who are not members of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association will be trespassing. This organization, in an attempt to work out better hunter-farmer relationships, has come to an agreement with most farmers in the area. In return for the right to shoot on private property, association members must leave their membership card or name with the farmer in question before starting to shoot, pick up their card at the end of the day's shoot.

Allied Divisions Attacking On 22-Mile Korean Front

Heavy Fighting Explodes Throughout Battle Zone

U.S. 8th ARMY H.Q., Korea, Oct. 13 (Saturday) (AP)—Three Allied divisions opened an attack today along a 22-mile front in Central Korea and gained up to a mile against feeble Communist Chinese resistance.

The whole Korean front exploded in the heaviest fighting since last May, with Allied units suffering reverses at points in the east and west Friday.

Today's limited offensive attack in the centre was south of Kumsong, a Red stronghold 29 miles north of Parallel 38. The U.S. 24th Division scored the mile advance.

The other two divisions in the attack were the South Korean 2nd and 6th.

Kumsong has been under air and artillery fire since last August.

First reports on the progress of the assault were fragmentary. The attack struck an area where the Chinese Reds used a week ago had launched unusually heavy counter-attacks. These were beaten off by South Koreans.

In western Korea, the 1st Battalion of the U.S. 7th Cavalry Regiment was overrun by Chinese Reds Friday and suffered heavy casualties before a rescue operation saved the battalion's remnants. The shattered battalion fell ground southwest of Yinchon.

In Eastern Korea, the 3rd Battalion of the U.S. 23rd Regiment was driven off a Heartbreak Ridge peak just southwest of Hill 851.

Hill 851 itself, the major peak captured Friday, still was held by the U.S. 1st Battalion and a French battalion.

An Eighth Army briefing officer said savage fighting still raged, and that Heartbreak Ridge could not yet be considered "secured."

Today's central front push was called a "limited objective" attack.

In this same general area, South Korean troops north east of Hwachon struck Chinese positions and drove the Reds off five hills almost as fast as they could run.

At Munsan, a Communist charge, that United States planes strafed Panmunjom and the Kaesong neutral zone, killing a Korean boy, rudely jolted hopes to day for resumption of the long suspended truce talks.

Friday his condition was said to be as satisfactory as possible.

Bishop Hill came to Victoria in 1946, succeeding Rt. Rev. John C. Cody now Bishop of London, Ont.

Four Lost Off Coast Of Oregon

SEATTLE, Oct. 12 (AP)—An elderly couple was swept to sea in a small boat tonight and two persons attempting to rescue them by plane were also believed lost near the mouth of the Rogue River on the southwest Oregon coast.

The couple was identified by the U.S. Coast Guard as Mr. and Mrs. William Grant, both about 60 of Van Nuys, Calif. The coast guard said their boat, a 39-foot outboard, became disabled while they were fishing near the river's mouth and drifted to sea.

Van Nuys Scout and Roy Radar took off from a nearby airport at 10:30 p.m. to assist in rescue operations and their plane crashed about 500 yards offshore. It was badly wrecked and water was running so high that no other rescue craft could reach the plane.

The coast guard said it believed all four persons were drowned.

Bonds to Be Sold at Weather Station

Capt. James A. Sleight of the weather ship St. Catharines accepts a handful of Canada Savings Bonds applications from Tom Morrison of the Department of Transport. In line with the coming bond drive, the bonds will be sold to St. Catharines crew members while the ship is stationed for weather observation at "P for Peter," a spot in the Pacific 1,000 miles west of Victoria.

Egyptians Plan Moves To Block Out Britons

CAIRO, Oct. 12 (AP)—Egypt will soon put the heat on British troops in the Suez Canal area by declaring their "enemy forces" and canceling their special privileges, official sources say today.

A program of non-co-operation to cut off the troops' drinking water, fresh food and the use of Egyptian labor was forecast to follow parliament's abrogation, expected Monday, of two old treaties.

These treaties authorized Britain to keep 10,000 troops, 400 pilots and various auxiliaries on guard at the strategic canal and provide for joint British-Egyptian rule of Sudan, bordering Egypt on the south.

Britain has announced she intends to maintain her full rights under the treaties, however.

A battalion of the South Lancashire Regiment, stationed at Trieste for three years, was ordered to be ready to embark for Sudan by Oct. 25—speeding up a long-scheduled transfer by a month. The Sudanese defense force is commanded by British officers.

Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison, in England, said Britain would meet force with force, if necessary, to keep British troops in the Suez Canal area.

Cairo's Iraq now is seeking revision of the 25-year treaty of alliance she signed with Britain in 1930.

Arena Activity Canceled For Week-End

It was too good to last. After working exceptionally well although only partial repairs had been made to the leaky brine-tank rolls, the ice plant at Memorial Arena broke down again yesterday.

While officials maintain that Tuesday's scheduled Pacific Coast Hockey League game between Victoria Cougars and Saskatoon Quakers will go on as scheduled, all other planned activity for the week-end has been canceled.

There will be no public skating sessions today and there will be no practice for Commercial Hockey League teams tomorrow.

Additional leaks began showing up in the rolls about 10 yesterday morning and by 5 yesterday afternoon the brine tank was giving out an estimated 25 per cent operation. Extra ammonia was used during last night's game between Victoria and Seattle in an attempt to keep the thin sheet of ice hard but the teams played under extreme difficulties with the ice deteriorating rapidly.

Arena commissioner H. W. Davies, R.C., made the announcement of cancellation of all planned week-end activities, and that there was every chance that Tuesday's game can be played, at a special arena commission meeting after the game.

Meanwhile, crews will work around the clock over the week-end making whatever repairs possible and rushing completion of an auxiliary tank. The extra tank is expected to be ready by Friday and arena manager Joe Dukowski stated that if ice can be kept and built up in the meantime that everything would then be under control.

Liberal M.P. From North Advocates Development of Yukon, Territories

OTTAWA, Oct. 12 (CP)—A veteran of life in Canada's north, a Liberal member of the spruce constituency of Yukon-Mackenzie River, said the "development, settlement and opening up of the north will vastly increase our national wealth, and provide work and homes for countless thousands of new Canadians."

As the frontier is pushed back, as each mine is opened and each mile of road built further northward it will increase our strength and ability to resist aggression and enable us as a nation to take an increasingly important part in maintaining a free world.

He spoke in seconding the traditional motion for adoption of an address in reply to the speech from the Throne, read Tuesday at the opening of the fall session.

The motion was moved by Robert Cauchon (L. Beauharnois) who said that the development of the St. Lawrence seaway and power projects would be beneficial to Canadian agriculture, industry and trade.

Mr. Simmons, who went to Yukon as a child, called for improvement of the air, rail and

ALL ABOARD

By G. E. Mortimore

They say Aberdeen is the place where moths fly from pocketbooks and eager heads knock together when someone drops saxe.

The allegation is probably a libel on a fine town and a generous race. But there is a town in Canada which may well become in the future the legendary home of moths.

The town is Victoria, B.C. Unfortunately there is already an Aberdeen, Washington, so we can scarcely call ourselves "the Aberdeen of the Pacific Coast."

But we may be known henceforth (and this would look good in tourist literature) as "the Aberdeen of Canada."

New Westminster citizens gave an average of $244 per person to the Community Chest. The national average was $202. Victoria, which is one of Canada's richest cities for its size, gave $134.

The average Victorian cared so little about his fellow men that he gave only $1.34 to help the hungry, the motherless and sick, and to build good citizens for a whole year.

This is not only among Canada's richest cities, but also, by reputation, among the most godly. There are more churches in Victoria than there were saloons in the bad old days. The good burghers have very strong views about beer parlors and Sunday sport.

But when it comes to practical Christianity, they are one with the priest and the Levite.

Plenty of alibis exist: this agency or that, they say, should benefit from the Chest; the collector didn't call; the drive wasn't properly organized; people can't afford to give; nobody helped them, so why should they help others?

I don't mean to argue about these excuses at the moment, but I say that none of them hold water. Every one of them is an apology for cold, closed-minded selfishness.

Some people were generous, and they will not be hurt. Others still have a chance to change their minds. It is not too late to give.

"I've been asked why we don't adopt the British hospital insurance plan," Premier Byron Johnson said recently. "We could copy their plan, but we would have to be taxed like the British people are today. I don't think the people would stand for that."

British people are heavily taxed, indeed. But the premier's statement is misleading because it implies they are taxed solely to raise money for national health. In fact, money raised by taxation is spent in a number of ways. One is national health. Another is the staggering defense program.

If Britain's national health plan does cost a lot, it signifies one of two things: the health plan is badly administered or the people were spending a large sum on hospitals and doctors before the plan came in.

As far as I know, the plan is pretty well administered, and early troubles are being ironed out. A share of Britain's taxes now goes to pay the vast medical bill which citizens were bearing individually. The plan spreads the cost among the whole population.

British Columbia's hospital insurance scheme was designed to do the same thing on a less ambitious scale. Britain pays for doctors, hospitals, medicines and a lot of other things. B.C. pays part of the hospital bill only. Britain finances the plan out of general revenue; B.C. exacts a premium.

Whether it is practicable in this country or not, the British plan is a fairer one. It assumes health is a public responsibility like education or roads. It collects money to meet the cost from those who are best able to pay.

Song and Supper at Stall

A dozen of the needy persons who call at the surplus food stall of Mrs. Barbara Green today will receive a bright and cheery bonus with their food parcels.

Thanks to Mrs. J. M. Johnston of 1419 Harrison Street, 12 singing canaries will be waiting at the stall eager to thrill for their new owners.

Among those who have already put in requests for songbirds is a lady with a crippled son and a blind man.

"They'll be well taken care of," canary is the only kind of pet these people can afford and I'm sure they will help to fill up a hole in their lives.

Mrs. Green said she has received more than enough bird cages to house the canaries.

In the food department there will be a good and varied supply including 200 pounds of powdered milk, half a ton of potatoes, 40 pounds of frozen lamb, cheese, cauliflower, apples, pears, peas.

A Mrs. Genevieve Grant of Seattle has written to Mrs. Green and offered to supply six dozen pullet eggs.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Green's brainchild continues to receive increasing publicity. Several queries have been made about stories for national magazines.

The Lions Club of Vancouver, which has fostered a similar plan in that city, is endeavoring to interest the Lions International in the idea.

Mrs. Green is hoping that the stall can operate throughout the winter, at least on a month-by-month basis.

The Royal Arcanum and other volunteers will assist Mrs. Green in operating the stall today.

Tip of $30,000
BOLTON, England, Oct. 12 (Reuters).—Taxi driver Thomas Bolton, who just had the biggest tip—$30,000, Mrs. Margaret Johnson Crompton hired help to drive for her for 20 years. When she died last June she left him ten thousand pounds.

Empire Troops Given Praise
WESTERN FRONT, Korea, Oct. 12 (AP).—The 1st Commonwealth Division received a "well done" today from its commander.

Maiden A. J. H. Cassels for its first successful offensive in Korea.

In a special order of the day, Cassels praised all arms and services of his division, but singled out the infantry and tanks for bearing the brunt of the fighting.

The division jumped off Oct. 3 with two United States divisions in the limited objective of offensive in the upper Imjin area. "Our division has now completed its first attack and has gained all its objectives," Cassels said.

"I knew that I had well-trained and aggressive troops who could and would achieve anything that was reasonably demanded of them. The result has more than proved my conviction was right."

"He taught me a lesson"

"The other day my neighbour confessed to me that he was a bit upset. The doctor had told him that he had a heart murmur or something... and he was worrying about whether or not he could get more life insurance."

"Now I'm a pretty healthy fellow myself but he set me thinking. I want to save for my own future... and provide properly for my family, just in case."

"So I had a talk with The Mutual Life representative. There are plenty of ways to save," he said, "but there's no way except life insurance that will provide both saving and protection. The thing to do is to be sure you've got enough for your needs, and to take it out while you are sure you can get it."

"I learned about saving"

For many people saving is a tough job... unless a systematic plan is used. That's what life insurance does for you. It puts your saving programme in a definite place in your budget... makes you save.

U.S. Gives Reds Notice Italian Pact to Be Eased

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP).—The U.S. state department, brushing aside Soviet objections as propaganda, gave notice today that the west is going ahead with plans to ease the peace treaty with Italy.

Allowance Now $26,000,000

OTTAWA, Oct. 12 (CP).—The federal treasury now pays more than $26,000,000 a month in family allowances.

A report tabled today in the Commons by Health Minister Martin showed allowance payments now amount to approximately $310,000,000 a year compared with about $173,000,000 in 1946, the first full year in which the allowances were paid.

The report, covering the fiscal year ending March 31, 1952, disclosed that 1,910,192 families with 4,367,391 eligible children were receiving allowances.

The allowances are paid at the monthly rate of $3 for each child under six years; $6 for each child from six to nine years; $7 for each child from 10 to 12 years; and $8 each child from 13 to 15 years.

From July 1, 1945, to March 31, 1951, the family allowance payments totaled $1,561,773,776.

Committee Reports Smuggling to Reds

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (INS).—A senate investigating committee reported today that 200 American individuals and firms have been guilty of smuggling embargoed goods to Communist areas.

The report of a subcommittee headed by Sen. O'Connor (D-Md.) warned that Communist agents have "redoubled" their efforts to obtain embargoed goods.

The 200 U.S. individuals and firms were not identified in the report.

The committee said U.S. enforcement of export controls has been good but declared that in other nations, it has ranged from "excellent to negligible."

O'Connor's group said no American flagships have carried embargoed goods to Russia or Communist China since last December.

Of 100 ships known to have called at Chinese Communist ports since last Jan. 1 the report stated, 62 were of Pan-American registry, three were Russian, and the remainder British, Norwegian, Greek and Danish.

The report said one of the loopholes in the embargo structure is Macao, in the U.S.-controlled Ryukyu Islands. The subcommittee said more far-reaching efforts must be made to control that traffic.

O'Connor's group conceded that trade with Iron Curtain countries is "presently necessary" for certain western nations. The solution, the subcommittee said, is to provide alternate markets and sources of supply.

Cabbage Patch Raid Just Hunt for Stork

ANGOULEME, France, Oct. 12 (AP).—Farmer Giraud was fit to be tied when he found all 30 plants in his cabbage patch torn up. Why would anybody do a thing like that?

Police discovered the culprits to be seven little girls aged eight to 12. Their explanation: "We were looking for babies."

Giraud today cheerfully withdrew his charges, for babies are not brought by the stork but are found in cabbage plants.

Troops Test Steel Vests In Korea

WITH THE 7TH INFANTRY DIVISION, U.S. ARMY IN KOREA, Oct. 12 (INS).—A newly developed armored jacket designed to stop a .45 calibre bullet at pointblank range, is being worn by tank and half-track crewmen in the 17th Infantry "Buffalo" Regiment in Korea.

The "bullet proof" vests are being tested against enemy small arms fire for the first time in Korea.

Cpl. James J. Adams, Dragoon, Utah, a veteran half-track driver, one of the first to don the lightweight coat, said:

"It's light and should give plenty of protection against chest wounds."

Lined with thin layers of steel, the jackets were developed recently by the army for use in Korea. The armored suits will also be given to combat medics who go to front lines with stretchers.

Regina Proffers B.C. Advice On Health Scheme Operation

REGINA, Oct. 12 (CP).—Health Minister T. J. Bentley said today the success of Saskatchewan's health insurance and hospital services plan has stimulated interest in health programs in other parts of Canada.

"The Saskatchewan government is willing to help other provinces in any way possible," Mr. Bentley said at the Saskatchewan Hospital Association convention here.

"Political differences won't affect our thinking," he said that a commission from British Columbia had visited Regina recently to study the C.C.F. government's health schemes.

"We want B.C. to succeed with its health programs just as we ourselves wanted to succeed here," the minister explained.

Mr. Bentley told delegates three things were basic to a successful program—everyone must be eligible for benefits, financing must be equitable, and benefits should be equal.

"The sales tax is about the only way provincial governments can tax people according to their ability to pay," he said. "That way those who have the most money to spend are heaviest taxed."

Two Pilots Killed In Prairie Crash

MACDONALD, Man., Oct. 12 (CP).—Two R.C.A.F. pilots were killed today when their training plane crashed and burned in bush country near Langruth, 80 miles northwest of Winnipeg at the southern tip of Lake Manitoba.

Names of the men were withheld by the R.C.A.F. until relatives are notified.

Sqn. Ldr. G. G. Wright of the recently reopened air training centre at Macdonald said the plane was on a routine training flight.

Some Facts Regarding Christian Science

Christian Science is Christian. It is based on the teachings of Jesus as recorded in the Bible.

Christian Science is scientific. Spiritually logical and unflinching, its prayers affirm and demonstrate man's true nature to be in accordance with God's perfection.

Christian Science is demonstrable. It supplies the needed answers and the needed evidence to the sincere seeker. A thoughtful study of the Christian Science textbook

SCIENCE and HEALTH WITH KEY TO THE SCRIPTURES by Mary Baker Eddy gives convincing assurance that this great Science of Christ is indeed the Comforter promised by Jesus.

Soldier Found Not Guilty Of Murder

EDMONTON, Oct. 12 (CP).—A jury today acquitted Frederick J. Sabatis of murder and found him guilty on a lesser count of manslaughter for killing a fellow soldier with a service rifle bullet.

Mr. Justice S. L. Shepherd of the Alberta Supreme Court sentenced the 18-year-old Kingsclear, N.D., youth to one year at hard labor.

The jury of six men took three hours to reach its verdict.

Sabatis, in a statement admitted as evidence, had said he fired the shot that killed Private H. B. McEachran at Wainwright military camp June 30. But he maintained it was an accident.

Sabatis and McEachran, both New Brunswickers, had been pals in the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

CONVICT GARDENERS LONDON (CP).—Officials of British prisons are trying to interest convicts in gardening. The governor of one prison said that work on the land "seems to give them contentment."

Writing Down the Dollar

ANNOUNCEMENT yesterday by Canadian shipping firms of a 10 per cent increase on freight charges between Canadian ports on the Pacific to apply in 10 days' time has taken this and other communities by surprise. It might as well have been said that on and after Oct. 22 all ships of Canadian registry carrying cargoes between west coast Canadian ports would write down the value of the Canadian dollar and that more dollars will have to be found for the same purpose, for that will be the effect on British Columbia trade, industry and people. What this does to the "parity of rate" structure which held between Victoria and Vancouver for 40 years on through consignments is to throw it out of the window.

It is significant that the sudden new increase in Gulf of Georgia freight rates will not apply to Puget Sound or to southern Alaskan waters, where these same Canadian shipping lines have American competition. The inference that will be drawn by the public is not a fortunate one. It is that Canadian lines can arrange such a "hike" on their own initiative without let or hindrance, but dare not do so where the elements of fair competition remain in coastal commerce.

As usual, if the announced increase is confirmed, the public will be the chief goat. On to the price of every needed commodity and article affected will have to go whatever percentage addition is needed to make up this further writing down of the value of the Canadian dollar. Inasmuch as cargoes of Vancouver loading for Vancouver Island points are largely transshipments from the railways; this increase evades both the spirit and the intent of Canada's announced policy on through freights. Certainly Victoria, Nanaimo, Port Alberni, and Prince Rupert, with all points in between, have been given a left-handed Christmas present, sent C.O.D.

What the public will be left wondering is why there is apparently not even a pretense at open competition between the three main shipping lines of Canadian registry doing business on this coast. If a 10 per cent increase in charges can be arranged in this fashion without reference to any controlling body, will it stop there? Boards of trades and all other pertinent agencies should take this issue under advisement at once, with the object of making strong and unified objection to parliament at the first available opportunity.

Iran Goes to Egyptian Heads

SINCE in their recent armed conflict with Israel the Egyptians proved that on their own they could scarcely fight their way out of a paper bag, wiser minds in the Nile Valley no doubt deplore the hotheads who would declare war on Great Britain and, apparently, attempt to remove the British troops from the Suez Canal zone by force. It has been the presence of British military power that has enabled Egypt to attain and keep its modern independent status, and withdrawal of this bulwark would inevitably leave the land of the Pharaohs comparatively weak and helpless in a world where such a condition invites the unscrupulous aggressor.

Egyptian memories must be short, else the lesson of nine years ago this month would not so easily be forgotten. The immediate result of Iranian oil dispute has of course gone to Egyptian heads, but the situation is vastly different and there will be no similar evacuation of British personnel. Actually the occupation of the Suez Canal zone by British troops is now analogous to the American-held bases in Canada. The foreign forces on Newfoundland and Suez Canal soil are there for exactly the same purpose, that of mutual defense.

In both cases national agreements provide for such occupation, although Egypt would now repudiate her end of the bargain. Much more than the relations of Egypt and Britain are at stake in the Middle East, however. Control of the Suez Canal area is vital to the security of the Western Alliance, so that whatever adjustments Egypt may seek to obtain are not likely to be ceded if they would jeopardize the Mediterranean defensive structure being welded against the threat of Soviet Russia.

Another factor is involved in Egyptian demands, that of the future of the Sudan, which is being groomed for the independence now part of studied policy wherever the British colonial flag flies. Unless the Sudanese themselves wished to throw in their lot with Egypt, no one in his right senses would hand them over to a nation so palpably inept and indifferent to the welfare of its poverty-stricken masses. The contrast between the pasha and the fellahen is one indication of the inability of Egypt to govern itself properly, let alone be given suzerainty over another people.

Arena Rent Policy

MR. WALTER MILES' objection to the policy of charging substantial rent for use of the arena by non-profit organizations seems to be well taken. Since Victoria lacks a civic auditorium, the sports arena has to do double duty—or at least that was the intention when the building was erected by community funds. The rental charges levied for its use, however, are often prohibitive to local organizations operating on slender budgets, and are discouraging the wider employment of which the arena is capable.

The $250 rent charged against the Air Cadet Squadron for use of the arena for a free band concert one Sunday during the summer illustrates Mr. Miles' objection. Much the same thing happened last year when the Victoria Symphony Society presented a special concert on a week night in aid of the Manitoba relief fund. The rent charged for the arena on that occasion was $500, plus various extras. As a result the society lost money on the undertaking, and is not likely to engage the arena again.

The overhead expenses of the arena are heavy, and it is quite right that the building should be made to pay its way without added calls on city taxpayers. In that respect the commission is to be commended on the efficiency of its administration and the healthy state of the operating account. There is a vast difference, however, between commercial use of the arena for sport and other purposes, and public use of the sort mentioned by Mr. Miles. Although it is always difficult in operations of this type to know where to draw the line, the commission should give its rental policy further thought, with a view to eliminating or scaling down charges so that the fullest possible use could be made of the arena for non-profit entertainment and displays.

SAW PRESSURE WAVE?

Sir,—In connection with the earthquake that occurred on Oct. 9, about 3 p.m., as reported in your "Around Town" article the following day, as having taken place about 50 miles from Victoria, possibly westward in the Pacific, the following incident may be of interest.

On the afternoon of Oct. 9 I was sitting on the rocks below Beacon Hill. There was little or no breeze and I had been very interested in a number of sea birds quite close inshore diving beneath the water, that was so placid and tranquil as to look like one vast expanse of plate glass, not a ripple disturbed its surface.

Suddenly, and for no apparent reason, the surface of the sea became violently agitated and several waves rolled in and dashed against the rocks. The sudden disturbance was such as would normally follow in the wake of a large ship passing close by.

After a short space, the water once more assumed its earlier absolute calm. The time was then about 3 o'clock. It would seem that a likely explanation of this sudden phenomenon was the earthquake mentioned in your column.

THE BAKERY COMBINE

Sir,—It is gratifying indeed to read in a recent issue an editorial in which a respected and learned judicial official had the fortitude to censor the law-makers of this Dominion and the defendants. Too often we have demonstrations by irresponsible parties or groups on our judiciary, but in this case we find a decision, based upon evidence produced by competent investigators, that the punishment (legislated by our Dominion Parliament) was not sufficient for such ruthless prevaricators as the defendant companies. But in spite of this investigation, trial and sentence by our duly authorized court, we do not find any directive to these companies to roll-back prices of the commodity to that which was in use before the irregularities occurred.

May one ask why? From the trial judge's scathing remarks when sentencing, would indicate that the consuming public were entitled to this much consideration. The legal procedure does not provide for it.

HEALTH SERVICES

Sir,—After listening to the local minister of health and welfare on the radio, one would conclude that this province, under the Coalition government, was a paradise for the pampered poor.

How does he explain then the complete lack of the first necessities of health and welfare in all the great district of Sooke, North Sooke, East Sooke, Jordan River and Otter Point, where there is no resident doctor and the district nurse if there is one is never available?

This district is adjacent to Victoria; it is thick with logging, an industry with inevitable casualties for which there is no medical aid nearer than Victoria.

All the comfort that the ordinary citizen gets from this unfortunate government is the fact that it will cost him $65 at least if he has to go to hospital, and this knowledge in itself is enough to bring on cirrhosis of the liver.

If the minister really believes what he says, that his ministrations are the best in Canada, let him take a trip to Alberta, or Saskatchewan, or Newfoundland, and find out what they do for the people there. His mind will be broadened and his talk will be moderated.

STOOGES SUTOR

Memory Time

By FRANK KELLEY

DOWN the years it has been my very good fortune to meet and get acquainted with some land surveyors—now and then "in the field" and occasionally when I had the price of a lunch or was treated to one at the old Boomerang, of which Herrick McGregor, B.C.L.S., wrote some verse before he went overseas with Currie, and his Gordon Highlanders to give a life early in the Great War for a British principle—the plighted word.

Among other old-timers of the transit, I recall, were Jack Gray, Alastair Robertson and H. H. Browne. What always caused me some wonder on getting to know them was the fact that they never seemed to have too much cash, although widely circulated stories had it they made plenty and took advantage of their work and knowledge of the country districts to "feather their own nests."

That was, of course, not said in kindness and was anything but true. However, such things will likely always be in a society where another fellow's reputation is something to treat lightly. Of my several friends of theodolite and transit, none was so colorful as H. H. Browne. And what a fund of tales he had at the tip of his tongue to regale one with.

A native of Ontario, where he was born in 1862, he was with Herbert Holt on Canadian Pacific location survey in 1880. Holt got $75 a month and Browne $150 each day. The next year he was article to an engineer surveying the N.W.T. His tales of those days and the wild life of the country—buffalo and antelope particularly—had much of humor in them. The pay on that job was $33 a month. Cost of the apprenticeship was $400, sometimes put up by the embryo surveyor's parent, but was deducted from Browne's pay.

"With no remittance from home," Browne used to say, "my pockets were usually empty; but I had no sense of poverty or desire for riches. Had a pipe and managed to get enough tobacco; and now after 40 years of much the same sort of thing I am just as eager for the life as I was then, with still no remittances from home. It must be the life."

It was 40 years ago that I first met Browne. He had arrived on the Coast in 1900, done surveying on the Queen Charlottes, the Northern B.C. Coast and the West Coast of Vancouver Island; and was in charge of location for the E. & N. extension from Wellington to Port Alberni in 1907. He made his home at Alberni until he was called on another assignment, when he went aloft to do some transit work along the Milky Way and beyond.

He was a great admirer of the N.W.M.P. and some of his stories had to do with methods employed by the police in handling the liquor traffic. He had a story which evidently gave him many a chuckle. At Fort Alice, above the Assiniboine, fatigue parties had to carry water in pails up the hill. On one occasion, a party about to enter the fort was stopped by a sergeant, who, on peering into one of the buckets, saw in the muddy river water two rum bottles, which he smashed on the two-pounder at the fort gate. It turned out later that the bottles he broke contained water, the rum being in a pail that reached the messroom and sparked a bibulous celebration.

Among Browne's papers when he passed on were these lines, his own: "Beneath this calm and witness post a land surveyor's bones are laid; the bearing trees confirm his ghost when huts from azimuth have strayed. Along the front where moved his tent, departure grew latitude; and still he never saved a cent—his recompense on high he viewed. He seldom grumbled at his lot (surveyors are not built that way), but made the best of what he got and called the fraction 'Parcel A.' Methinks I hear this message short, as from Polaris he looks down: 'Sir, I've the honor to report, your most obedient servant, Browne.'"

Gerald Waring

Reporting From Ottawa

WHEN Foreign Minister Pearson goes to Rome next month to preside over the N.A.T.O. council meeting, he'll be taking over the chair in the most delicate days of N.A.T.O.'s existence.

Nobody needs to belabor the fact that war is possible on the next turn of a card in the game of power politics. At Ottawa, N.A.T.O. went far towards filling its hand, with the decision to admit Greece and Turkey to the coalition, and the tacit agreement that Western Germany would be next, either as a full N.A.T.O. member, or linked with N.A.T.O. in a military alliance.

Peace or war hinges largely on what happens in the next few months, when Pearson will be head of the N.A.T.O. council. For time is running short for the rearmament of Europe. With the best of progress, Europe may not be able to resist attack successfully until 1953, and even then only with financial, material and manpower assistance from North America.

In the face of growing N.A.T.O. strength, the great unknown is what Russia will do: whether she will be deterred from aggression, as we hope or spurred to aggression before N.A.T.O. is ready to defend western Europe.

The common Soviet refrain is that N.A.T.O. is preparing to wage aggressive war against Russia. If this isn't merely propaganda to justify Russia's own hostile preparations, then our rearmament activities might induce her to strike.

On the premise of Soviet belief in the West's aggressive intentions, either the formal adhesion of Greece and Turkey to the Atlantic Pact, or Germany's inclusion in the western defense front could, unknown to us, be our rubicon.

It's quite likely that the Russians view Greek and Turkish adherence to the treaty, and would view West German adherence, in the same way that we and the Americans would view a Communist coup d'état in Mexico. But opinion at the recent N.A.T.O. meeting here, and among our own foreign affairs experts as well, is that it's a bigger risk not to utilize Greek, Turkish and German strength in the N.A.T.O. defensive program.

Gordon Graydon, the Progressive Conservative critic on foreign affairs, pointed recently to a service which he said Pearson and the government generally should essay at this juncture in N.A.T.O. affairs.

"One of the major and certainly immediate contributions Canada can make," Graydon said in a speech, "is to reconcile the growing conflicting views and try to bridge the difference between the United States on one side, and the United Kingdom, backed by some European countries, on the other. Notwithstanding the outward appearance of unanimity of the Ottawa conference, the American and European points of view could appear to be getting farther apart."

"The divergence of opinion rises from the U.S. being most concerned with the military effort, and calling for a more rapid and extensive military program, while the European point of view led by Britain shows more concern for the economic and financial problems which rearmament aggravates."

"Canada's challenge comes in trying to keep the balance. Towards this end we might work out with Britain and within the Commonwealth a more adequate supply and distribution of essential raw materials. . . . Within the Commonwealth, solution of the problem of supply of essential materials without accompanying inflation which could price us out of rearmament, is within the realm of possibility."

Many of those who heard Graydon thought he made good sense.

This Age of Squat and Look

(From The Tacoma News-Tribune)

THERE was a sad little advertisement in our paper the other day. Sad for what it implies.

Trade your piano in as down payment on a television set, the advertisement urged. In other words, don't create your own entertainment and pleasure. Just squat down in front of a TV set and let someone else entertain you.

If that advertisement, with the inevitable response to it, is a trend of the times—and we fear very much it is—something that is not good is happening to our way of life.

A lot of us can remember when family and guests gathered around the piano for a sing, and everyone thought it good fun. We can remember, with pleasure now, the somewhat tortured hours that the youngsters spent on their piano lessons, hours that were justified because the children were learning to do something for themselves. Leaving the piano for a minute, we recall the many simple pleasures of a bygone era when there were no TV sets and no radios. Try to tell a boy or girl about the delights of a taffy pull and you'll be looked at as though you were slightly queer. Tell a youngster what fun you once had on long walks through the countryside and he'll know you are nuts.

We have arrived at the age of squat and look. Spectatoritis or squintitis is the disease of the day. Children are being encouraged to let others entertain them rather than entertain themselves, and this training and tendency extend on into their adult lives. We sit and look when we should walk, and think; and conversation is a lost art.

Fun, Fact and Fiction

Being more self-restrained, our orators don't burst into tears like Mosaddegh of Iran, unless they happen to be addressing a jury.

The hope of world peace would seem to lie in fathoming the secret of the Scandinavian people, who know all about each other, yet are still good friends.

"I've decided on a name for baby," said the young mother. "I shall call her Nanette."

Her husband thought it was an awful name to give a girl, but being a wise and tactful fellow, he did not object. "Splendid," he said, cheerfully. "The first girl I ever loved was called Nanette, and the name will revive pleasant memories!"

There was a brief silence, then: "We'll call her Mary, after my mother," said the young wife firmly.

A seedless watermelon has been developed, which is progress of a sort, we suppose, but at the expense of good, messy fun.

An account of privations of his youth says Lincoln owned but seven books. They were books, though—not interior decorations.

The Soviet Union boasts an extraordinary number of centenarians—preserved, we suppose, by the salt mines.

The Packsack

OF GREGORY CLARK

IN my young manhood and early middle age I was told by other men, and it was intimated to me in many a novel and book, that the day would come when I would regret having not done some of the things which I passed up. The chances of a little off-the-record or on-the-side romance, which are offered to most men; the parties, the rumpuses, the shenanigans, which form part of the experience of the great majority of men at one stage or another of their lives; these things are passed up easily by men who are under the control of religious belief or who have that strong moral fibre which allows them to walk painlessly through life.

But there is a middle group of men who have in them all the instincts of mischief, fun or even evil, and who manage somehow to skitter by all the mischief and the evil and perhaps a good deal of the fun. And they do it without any great help from religious faith, moral fibre or even conscience. These are the ones who listen a little uneasily, across the years, to the assurances that, as they get older, they will regret the things they missed.

It just isn't so. By the time a man gets up around 60, the last thing he would want would be a second chance. In the last couple of years, I have made it a point to talk about this very thing to a great variety of elderly rascals and aging good men. Some have been successes, some failures, some dogged all their lives by misfortune and frustration; others have lived like a song. The rascals don't regret a single thing, no more do the quiet humdrum fellows. At 60, a man is content with the life he has had. It is one of the characteristics of being over the hill.

Decorum

By WALTER MONFRED

North American Newspaper Alliance

"NO revelling or nipping words must be used for then all the House will cry: 'It is against the order.'"

Such was the decree set forth for the members of parliament in the time of Shakespeare and Queen Elizabeth. Nevertheless, revelling and nipping words continue to be used by imtemperate lawmakers.

Some of them have to be noted down, as a warning to prospective violators. The latest rule book on parliamentary procedure in England forbids members to refer to their colleagues in these terms: "cheat," "stool pigeon," "scurious," "vicious and vulgar," "criminal," "corrupt," "insulting dogs," "lie down, dog," "behaving like a jackass" and "swine."

On the opposite side of the globe, the New Zealand House of Representatives has the same sort of trouble, and its rules are even stricter. It forbids such invective as "chump," "dense," "conceit," "make believe" and even "hokey."

New Zealand's foreign minister, E. W. Doidge, is not happy about the restrictive book. He thinks it would be more suitable as a guide for a young ladies' finishing school. He demands more latitude for legislators. He points out that, in the parliament at London, Winston Churchill can describe Aneurin Bevan as a "squalid noisance," and that Bevan can call Churchill a "paranoiac"—all without a reprimand.

In the few hundred years that legislatures have governed the English-speaking peoples, the contest has been almost even between a sense of decorum and the passions of conflict. Everybody concedes that lawmakers should obey the law—especially their own laws of gentlemanly conduct. They have been guided by such precepts since the beginning.

"All debates should be grave and orderly, as becomes so great an assembly," the House of Commons resolved in 1693. "All interruptions should be prevented."

Yet 200 years later, the historian Justin McCarthy sadly termed that same house "the noisiest and rudest legislative assembly" that he knew of. Part of the fault for a recent riot in commons, he explained, was the cramming of many members into a small hall. When one man sought to leave his place, he had to jostle others, so that his movement looked like an attempt at assault.

The Night-Piece

Her eyes the glow-worm lend thee,
The shooting stars attend thee;
And elves also.

Whose little eyes-glow
Like the sparks of fire, befriend thee.

No will-o'-th'-wisp mislight thee;
Nor snake, or slow-worm bite thee;
But on, on thy way.

Not making a stay,
Since ghost there's none to affright thee.

Let not the dark thee cumber;
What though the moon does slumber?
The stars of night
Will lend thee their light,
Like tapers clear without number . . .

Dairymen's Application Returned as Improper

Victoria and district milk producers who seek to distribute their own milk may find their application returned to them when they check today's mail.

The application of 41 producers for such delivery permission has been returned as improper, E. C. Carr, milk board chairman, was reported to have said yesterday. It is expected to be received today by H. G. Robinson, secretary of the association.

Grain to Move

At Prince Rupert
WINNIPEG, Oct. 12 (C.P.)—The port of Prince Rupert will be used this winter to move part of western Canada's record grain crop to market, an official of the Canadian Wheat Board said today. The 1,250,000-bushel elevator at the northern British Columbia port now is empty. Alberta grain will begin moving into the port as soon as harvesting in Alberta permits.

'Yard' Man Blocked By R.C.A.F. Police

TRENTON, Ont., Oct. 12 (C.P.)—Scotland Yard found out today Canadians are keeping a careful guard on their Royal visitors too.

One of the famous yard's officers guarding the Royal couple started off across the parade square at the R.C.A.F. station to accompany them on an inspection of the field's set of memorial gates.

An R.C.A.F. policeman quickly blocked him off. The bodyguard couldn't produce the requisite credentials, so he never did get to the gates. But he picked up his charges later.

Band Needs Instruments

Instruments are needed for the Victoria Boys' Band.

Anyone with instruments to donate is asked to phone A. Harvey, newly-elected president of the organization, at Garden 9632.

Other officers are William Gailbraith, vice-president; James Free son, secretary; and H. Speller, treasurer.

Members of the band have been asked to meet at the home of Agnetha Drive, until a permanent hall can be obtained.

Police Discover Body in River

An unidentified body was found yesterday in the Fraser River north of Hope, B.C., according to R.C.M.P.

Decomposition of the body, which was unclad, will make identification difficult, according to the police although remaining dentures may be of help.

Although it has not been definitely ascertained, death was probably from drowning and had apparently been on the river for upwards of three weeks.

U.B.C. Allotted Grant for Hospital

OTTAWA, Oct. 12.—The University of British Columbia has been allotted $26,000 from federal hospital construction grants to help meet the costs of its new Student University Hospital, the minister of national health and welfare, Hon. Paul Martin, disclosed here today.

Located on the fourth floor of the Westblock Building, the new hospital is to serve student and staff members—about 7,000 people. It has space for 26 beds, an operating room and x-ray facilities.

The new hospital is regarded as the beginning of a university hospital which is planned as part of the development and expansion of work in medicine on the U.B.C. campus.

Plan to Establish Sister Kenny Clinic

Farmers To Share Big Surplus

OTTAWA, Oct. 12 (AP). — Prime Minister Howe announced today that Prairie farmers will share this fall in surpluses of more than $100,000,000 resulting from the sale of their wheat, oats and barley through the Canadian Wheat Board.

The first payment, on barley, will begin Monday and will average slightly more than 18 cents a bushel.

Those on wheat and oats — the amounts will be announced shortly — will begin later, and Mr. Howe hopes the payments will be completed before Dec. 1.

POOL CLEAN-UP
The payments represent the final clean-up of the Pools. The farmers get an initial payment and then, when the grain has been sold and handling charges deducted, the money left over is distributed to the producers as a final payment.

The surplus available this year from the 1950-51 Pools, Mr. Howe said, is in excess of $100,000,000.

He also told Percy Wright, C.C.F.-Melfort, the Government does not intend to make an advance payment to farmers for wheat properly stored on their farms. While the harvest this year was late, the Government felt farmers would be able to deliver more wheat this autumn than last year.

However, it would see that farmers did not "suffer unduly" from being unable to deliver their wheat.

He told John Diefenbaker (P.C., Lake Centre), the Government also does not intend to pay farmers storage for storing wheat on their farms. That would be like asking the farmer to pay storage to himself, for the money would come out of the Pool surplus and his final payment would be reduced accordingly.

U.S. Backs Production Of Canadian Aluminum

By The Canadian Press
Charles Sawyer, United States secretary of commerce says general opinion in American circles now backs the production in Canada of as much aluminum as possible.

This is a change from the view of a year ago. Then, strong interests favoring concentration of American aluminum production were responsible for the United States staying out of the present aluminum development in British Columbia, southeast of Prince Rupert.

There, the Aluminum Co. of Canada, Ltd. has started a $150,000,000 first-stage development, scheduled to go into production in 1954, and of it, Mr. Sawyer commented yesterday:

"Thank God Canadians went ahead anyway."

He was speaking to newspapermen in Toronto in amplification of his address to the American Life Convention.

In his address he referred back to his testimony last February to the house of representatives subcommittee on monopoly, when he said:

"All the information which has come to the national production authority and other officials of my department indicates that demand, both civil and military, for aluminum, will far exceed any present available supply."

London Market Turns Hollow

LONDON, Oct. 12 (Reuters). — Initial firmness in domestic stocks on the stock exchange today proved hollow.

Markets opened with a bright tone in home issues with buyers active in leading industrial groups but price advances attracted profit-taking and gains were lost and sometimes turned into losses.

Falls of a few pence were fairly widespread in textiles, engineering and stores shares at the close.

British Government funds, however, steadily moved higher on good investment inquiry.

Speculators were again busy in the foreign bond section.

Britain Signs Pact on Meat

LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP). — A new 15-year meat pact with Australia binding Britain to pay minimum prices equal to the 1950-51 average, was disclosed by the food ministry today.

The pact, effective next July, was signed Thursday by Food Minister Maurice Webber and John McEwen, Australia's minister of commerce and agriculture.

The price minimums were not disclosed.

Those for beef and lamb will apply for six years and those for mutton and lamb for three years.

In a game which combined some of the ingredients of water polo and field hockey, Victoria Cougars slid walked and scrambled to a 4-3 triumph over the little Ironmen in a Pacific Coast Hockey League game at Memorial Arena last night.

A capacity house of 5,000 plus saw the Cougars make it two straight for the young season in their delayed home opener and increase to 20 their record of consecutive undefeated games at Prekies Little's pads, Bernie Strongman, showing a surprising burst of speed, set up Joe Medynski for the goal which made it 2-0 before the game was six minutes old.

Nick Tomiuk sliced the lead in half midway through the period but Fred Hildebrand steered in a pass from Ed Dorehoy after a rush by Leon Bouchard to restore the two-goal margin after eight and a half minutes of the second period.

Good hockey was impossible with the arena ice plant working only 25 per cent efficiency and the thin sheet of ice sweating badly. Players tripped and stumbled on the concrete which showed through on the high spots, found it nothing but hard ice on the low spots and the puck at most unmanageable under the conditions under which the game was played. The entertainment value was amazing.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 12 (AP) — The tale of alleged tampering at Hamilton race track came and today with the final decision going against the man who brought the change.

The state racing commission upheld the suspension of track owner, Fred G. T. Becknell, Embury, for "conducting a detrimental and dishonest racing."

He had charged the tail on his old-on favorite, Detroit Tiger, who led to the starting gate at Hamorton last Aug. 22.

Not content at merely upholding the suspension, the commission extended it to Dec. 20. It said it had "reached the conclusion that tail using or other improper practices alleged by Dr. Becknell actually did not exist."

All but the local bout has been arranged by promoter Nick Harris for the weekly wrestling card to be staged at the Bay Street Army tonight.

Chief Thunderbird, popular Sault Ste. Marie grappler, will match bouts with John Eretoria in the main event.

Frank Stojack and Juan Humberto will grapple in the semi-final and George Strickland and Bill Dero will meet in the special event.

Two local wrestlers, not named as yet, will mix it in the opener at 8.30 p.m.

Ann Heywood of House II set two records, shaving 2.2 seconds from the senior girls' 50-yard freestyle mark with a time of 34 seconds and trimming the old mark of 1.01.5 in the senior girls' candle race by 7.7 seconds.

PACES BOYS

Garth Anderson of House I paced the boys with victories in the senior breaststroke and freestyle events.

Final house standings were: House III, 61 points; House II, 41 points; House IV, 39 points, and House I, 37, points.

New records established, with former marks in brackets, were:

50-yards senior girls' freestyle—Ann Heywood, 34 seconds (40.5).
50-yards junior girls' breaststroke—Sandra Macdonald, 35.1.
50-yards senior boys' breaststroke—Anderson, 1.01.5 (1.03.5).

Sports fans getting their first look at lacrosse are invariably moved to ask why the game has so strongly resisted television.

Anything a spectator sport needs a good deal of excitement. It has made it highly competitive, and plenty of action.

The recent Mann Cup final and its sequel provided much of the answer. Those who maintain that the game has been poorly promoted and is badly managed have added fuel for their argument.

First there was the Mann Cup fiasco. Games were shifted from one arena to another without plan or reason, one was scheduled for a date when the arena was closed for repairs, and so forth. Warnings that it would result in the fiasco it did, also against the advice of West Coast officials, the press were increased to an amount which all but made it certain that the public would not give the final its wholehearted support.

And there was also the comedy of the face-off in which officials could not make up their minds over what was at its best a trivial matter and the petty bickering over this assumed out-of-season proportions.

Then, to top it off, Don Crowe, playing each of the newly-recruited Pittsburgh Timbermen, left a bad taste with his wholly unwarranted remarks about the Victoria Shamrocks.

Apparently feeling it necessary to rescue the club for its one-sided exhibition game victory, Crowe decided that the Victoria team by stating that they were not in the same class as Vancouver Combine, graciously admitting that the club had one or two good players.

"We made it an even game," he proclaimed, finding that his team didn't take the game seriously and stating that it was well played apart from the after effects of the Mann Cup victory celebration, which he had sent seven of his players home early.

The first excuse was probably legitimate but a check of the Pittsburgh lineup sheet showed that only two players who saw action in the deciding Mann Cup game missed the Victoria exhibition.

It could be that the Timbermen would have beaten the Shamrocks in a series when the chips were down, but Crowe had no reason for his bad sportsmanship. It would have been just as easy—and more correct—to state that the Shamrocks would have beaten an excellent rival in the cup final. He might have mentioned, too, that the Timbermen had not played for almost three weeks and had he checked, he might have found quite a few who knew their combine would agree that Combine players have lost the Western All-Star had Whitey Severson been asked to take a shot.

starting off the infant National Hockey League season.

Hawks, who dropped a 4-2 decision to Montreal Canadiens in the opener Thursday night, to struggle with the defending Stanley Cup champion Maple Leafs in Toronto tonight. In the league's only other Saturday night clash, Boston Bruins will play Montreal.

Black Hawks, plagued all last season by injuries, seem to be eased down the same trail, against Toronto tonight. They will be without the services of star Fred Hudson, out with rib injuries. Bill Gadbury, broken arm, and Max McNabb, still recovering from assorted injuries.

Rightwinger Fleming Mackell, who suffered rib injuries during training camp, will be a doubtful rider for the Leafs. Howie Meeker, member of parliament for Waterloo South, is expected to don his uniform for tonight's one. It was earlier feared that crew-cut winger might not return from his parliamentary duties to play in the N.H.L.

The spotlight on the Victoria sports scene is shared by district soccer, first division rugby, basketball and Canadian football this Week-end. Victoria United is playing on the mainland.

Legion and Esquimalt, first and second, respectively, in the Victoria and District Football Association, will meet in the only league match today at 2:30 p.m. at the Athletic Park.

Tomorrow Victoria West and Denman will play at lower Beacon Hill at 2:45 p.m. and Aros trail to Duncan to meet the Native Lions at 2:30 p.m.

There are six games, headed by a pair of junior division con-

Charlie Lewis (unseen team) and Arrow Furniture.

A four-hour wrestling card will be staged at the Illeg Street Armory (tonight starting at 8:30).

Golf is still going strong at the Victoria courses. Among the matches scheduled over the week-end are a "cut" senior built-up match at the Uplands Golf course tomorrow, an inter-club team match at Gorge Vale tomorrow and a women's medal round for golfers with handicaps of 15 and under at the Victoria Golf Club.

The race was won by Sea King, ridden by an apprentice jockey, R. Heacock. Westey came in second.

The winning horse paid $32.00, $11.20 to place and $11.20 to show on a $2 ticket. Westey paid $61.50 to place and $16.30 to show.

Only five horses in a crowd of almost 1,000 people had chosen horses to come in one-two-five and a half furlong race.

Play in Quarter

The first of six monthly meet-competitions will be played the Gorge Vale Golf Club. So

The purpose of these competitions is to help keep up the competitive play of the golfs during the winter months.

It is expected that a team of eight will be picked from the final results of these competitions to compete against similars from the Pacific Northwest.

A medal will be awarded the winner of each month's competition and other prizes will be presented. The rounds will be played at a different clubhouse each month.

Entries should be handed in to the respective club secretaries not later than Oct. 25.

Also soccer line up which will play Native Sons at Duncan on Monday at 2:30 p.m. follows: Sadler, McKay, Dover, Masters, Perkins, Wilkinson, Macdonald, Alfelf, Waterston, Parry, Pike, Rice, Moss, Myrfin. Players are requested to meet at the City Hall at 12:30 sharp.

Football Union 11 per cent. The other 30 per cent, previously handled by the C.R.U., will be turned over to the Big Four and will be played. He said the referee has "full authority to call the game if it gets dark."

the football clubs will look for the complete sale of the 7,000-odd tickets for Canada's top 1 sports classic.

This was disclosed today following a meeting of a committee set up by the Canadian Rugby Union—ruling body of the game in the country—to figure ways whereby the fans who pay the weight of clubs throughout the season are given a half-decent chance of sitting in on the Nov. 24 spectacle.

The plan works this way: The Big Four and Western Canada unions each will continue to receive 30 per cent of the tickets and the Ontario Rugby western clubs for distribution.

The C.R.U. committee was made up of president Myer Insky, president Arthur L. Chipman of Winnipeg and secretary Tommy Alpin of Toronto. Harry MacBrien of Toronto, C.R.U. registrar, was called into today's meeting, which also decided that:

1. The game will start at 1 p.m. E.S.T. instead of the usual 1:45 p.m. kick-off. 'Toronto was on daylight time last year due to the power shortage but now that it is going by standard time we cannot take a chance of darkness interfering with play,' Insky said.
2. 'He added that in event of a tie after the regulation 60 minutes 20-minute overtime sessions ordered by the C.R.U. after last year's swampy field, will be ready in 10 days or two weeks and depending on weather conditions it will be put down on Toronto Varsity field a week before the game.

3. The gross price for the classic has ballooned from $25,450 in 1947 to a potential $112,000 in 1949.
4. "Enlargement of Varsity Stadium from a 20,000 capacity to more than 27,000 and the increase in tickets from the $3 and $2 last year to a top of $5 this year, has made this thing big business," Insky said.
5. The C.R.U. will invite Governor-General Alexander to kick off this year.

Fred Hildebrand (right) of Victoria Cougars seems to be saying "Come on in boys, the water's fine," as Seattle goalie Freckles Little (left) and unidentified Seattle defenseman sprawl over him. Action took place in P.C.H.L. opener at Memorial Arena last night. Game was played on ice surface that bore strong resemblance to lake.

Little appears nonchalant as he stops shot by Victoria's Doug Anderson but Seattle defenseman (right seems worried as he carries stick high, "Cougars won 4-3, to stretch undefeated string on home ice in league play to 20 games.—(Colonist photos by Jim Ryan.)

Churchill Berates Labor Rule for Lowest Ebb in British Prestige

10 Daily Colonist, Victoria, B.C.
Saturday, October 11, 1951

LONDON, Oct. 12 (CP).—his Labor government worked hard during troubled times to maintain the peace, which he said, is threatened by those who belong to the United Nations but do not accept its principles.

While the campaign debate proceeded, Britain's bet on the Labor government rule than during any period since the American colonies won the revolutionary war.

But Prime Minister Attlee gave an entirely different picture of Labor's accomplishments in foreign affairs. He declared that to one, Douglas Stuart, the big London bookmaker, cut the odds against the Conservatives to one to four. Last week Stuart offered only seven to four against Labor and two to five against the Conservatives.

Churchill, whose party claims it will halt the decline in British prestige if returned to power Oct. 25, spoke in the suburban constituency of Woodford. He said: "We have endured these six years. They have marked the greatest fall in the rank and less than it has ever been in any period since I remember."

Attlee told a labor rally at Acerrington, in northern England: "If everybody in the world was as resolved as the people of this country are to maintain peace, we should not have to be putting arms. If everybody in the world not only belonged to the United Nations but accepted the principles of the United Nations, we should be much more secure than we are today."

Speaking later at Oxford, Attlee said the west had to learn because of the large forces maintained by Russia and added: "The sooner we can get the world together checking the race in armaments, the better we shall all be pleased."

The question mark hovering over the Liberal Party—contesting only about 110 of the parliament's 625 seats—was in part dispelled today when a party spokesman predicted most of its votes will go to the Tories in uncontested districts.

"This Liberal floating vote" in 1950, 400 candidates polled 2,000,000 votes—could tip the scales for Tory or Labor more than any other single factor.

A Labor official agreed that his party would have to fight hard to get even half of the Liberal loose vote.

now better than ever...

3.21% PER YEAR IF HELD TO MATURITY
LIMIT FOR HOLDING IN ANY ONE NAME-$5,000.
CASHABLE AT FULL FACE VALUE PLUS INTEREST AT ANY TIME

THE LONGER IT'S HELD - THE BETTER IT GETS

Canada Savings Bonds - Sixth Series - have a "life" of 10 years and 9 months from date of issue and bear 10 coupons of equal value. The first coupon covers 1 year and 9 months and is payable on August 1st, 1953; subsequent coupons come due August 1st yearly thereafter until maturity. If cashed before August 1st, 1953, simple interest is paid at 2% per year (calculated monthly). This is because "dividing up" the first coupon payment over the period of 1 year and 9 months comes out to this "rate-per-year". This "rate-per-year" gradually increases as each coupon becomes payable until, for a bond that is held for its full term, the average annual interest rate reaches 3.21%.

CANADA SAVINGS BONDS are registered in the owner's name. They are non-assignable and non-transferable. Holdings in any one name limited to $5,000. Each member of a family may hold up to this amount. (Previous limit was $1,000.)

Uncle Wiggly Story

FOOLING THE FOXES

Uncle Wiggly stopped helping Mr. Chuck look for the burrow hole that the groundhog gentleman had dug in the early spring of the year. The rabbit had met the groundhog in the woods.

"Did you hear that, noise?" asked Uncle Wiggly.

"Do you mean that noise I made when I whistled or the noise I made when I clattered my teeth as an owl catches his prey?" asked Mr. Chuck.

"It didn't sound like either of those noises," answered Uncle Wiggly. "It was a sort of rattling in the bushes house."

Daily Astrology

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1951

Apply yourself to affairs calling for private handling; find solution and put things into shape.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini) - Take precautions concerning monetary matters. "Sit tight" if issues are belated.

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer) - Put obligations, commercial duties first on your list. Explore methods of bolstering status, social favor.

July 23 to Aug. 22 (Leo) - Stand on your own toes; don't expect others to furnish information or a program of action. Curb anxiety.

Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 (Virgo) - Guard reserves; vigilantly take no action which can tap finances or stamina.

Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 (Libra) - Be prepared to go it alone today as teammates and others are apt to let you down.

Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 (Scorpio) - Step in to be of service or assistance where needed, but avoid those who are "weighed down with woes."

Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 (Sagittarius) - Restrain your taste for amusement, hobbies or the fulfillment of prized goals. Head danger signals.

Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 (Capricorn) - Put affairs affecting "kith and kin" first. Fit in with the course of events.

Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 (Aquarius) - Persons in your vicinity may claim your time; keep clear of scheming, loose talk.

Feb. 19 to March 20 (Pisces) - Stretch your dollars while shopping today; stress economy. Keep a sharp eye on possessions.

Planning Ahead: Good for sociability, entertaining, etc. October 16, 17, 19, 21, 23, 25, 26, evenings of 27 and 28, 29, 30.

Work on Patricia Bay Road Slows, Grading-Delayed Until Month's End

Patricia Bay Express highway work has been slowed by considerable rock and other unforeseen difficulties, a provincial public works spokesman reported yesterday.

As a result of the delays, grading may not be completed until the end of this month, it was reported. The work had been scheduled to end 13 days ago.

The work is under the province and there is nothing the municipality can do, said acting Reeve Leslie Passmore of Saanich.

The public works department spokesman added it was not definite whether paving tenders could be called this year because of the start of wet weather.

Several transportation and freight companies have routed vehicles by way of West Saanich road to Patricia Bay rather than use the uncompleted road.

Saanich police reported several complaints from motorists driving over the rutted, bumpy new road.

CANADA SAVINGS BONDS*

Here is another opportunity for you to adopt this tried and tested system of saving money. Canada Savings Bonds never drop in value. If cash is needed you can get back the full face value of your bond, plus accrued interest, any time—at any bank in Canada.

You can buy Bonds for cash, of course. Or if you prefer, the Royal Bank will arrange for you to buy them by regular monthly instalments out of income. The procedure is simplicity itself. All forms and full information available at every branch.

THE ROYAL BANK OF CANADA

Association To Banquet

November 10

The 31st Alberta Battalion Association will hold its annual banquet Nov. 10.

Final arrangements for the banquet, to be held at the Sifacoma Hotel Cafe, were made at a meeting last night.

Elected president was G. H. Matthews. Other officers are: Vice-president, R. Ferrie; secretary, A. B. Riddle, and chairman, J. H. Matthews.

Committee members are R. Clements, W. Greig, A. B. McElwaine, J. M. Bell, W. Donaldson, Auditors are Colonel J. Taylor and M. W. Fraser.

New members admitted last night were J. Murphy and C. Robinson.

Death of Boy To Be Probed

CAMPBELL RIVER, Oct. 12.—The body of a three-year-old boy who is believed to have drowned near the town of Campbell River Thursday.

An inquiry into the boy's death will be held, according to R.C.M.P.

Identity of the lad has not been learned. His parents lived at Toba Inlet, police said.

Burgess Gadsden Named B.C. Aviation Council Head

(Special to The Colonist)

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS, Oct. 12.—Burgess J. Gadsden, Victoria, former city alderman and police commissioner, was elected president of the B.C. Aviation Council at its annual meeting here Friday.

A. Michaud, Vancouver, was elected first vice-president and Ben Valerie was named second vice-president.

Victoria's almost forgotten airport issue was aired briefly before the council when Mr. Gadsden told the delegates that he regretted that Victoria had lost the opportunity of having a nearby airport as the result of a plebiscite.

HELICOPTER AGE

Victoria was urged by several delegates to retain several small fields near the city to be ready for the helicopter age which they said was fast approaching.

Delegates were told that helicopter transportation of men and equipment is being put to extensive use in British Columbia in construction projects of the Aluminum Company of Canada at Kitimat and the Kemano Valley.

During the meeting delegates were addressed by Leslie H. Eyres, minister of trade and commerce, who told of the effect of aviation on the economy of the province.

Mr. Gadsden attended the council convention as official representative of Victoria. Ald. Waldo Skilling attended from Victoria as a city council delegate.

Inquiry Date Set In Ship Collision

An official inquiry into the Aug. 30 collision of the C.P.R. Princess Kathleen and the C.N.R.'s Prince Rupert will open in the Vancouver Court House Oct. 24.

Mr. Justice Sidney A. Smith, Vancouver, has been appointed commissioner to inquire into the mishap about 30 miles northwest of Prince Rupert.

Drug Ring Uncovered By Bolivian Police

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Oct. 12 (AP).—Bolivian police announced yesterday they have uncovered an international narcotic-smuggling ring trafficking between the United States and the west coast of South America. Police said the ring was discovered when they raided a cocaine factory near Calcutta.

Women Teachers in City Paid Same as Menfolk

Victoria women teachers are better paid than Vancouver women teachers.

While women teachers in Vancouver receive less pay than men, women teachers in Victoria are on an equal financial footing with their male counterparts.

Only woman member of Greater Victoria school board, Mrs. Gertrude E. McGill, said last night she was happy to be able to state that men and women teachers receive equal pay in Victoria.

"As a matter of fact, pay is equalized in most municipalities in B.C.," she said.

This is, however, not the case in Vancouver, where women teachers receive $30 a year less than men teachers.

UNDER FIRE

The Vancouver school board's policy of paying women less than men was criticized last night at a campaign meeting for equal pay.

A long list of distinguished guests rose to ridicule the practice.

Dr. Dorothy Mawdsley, dean of women at U.B.C., predicted that if the wage differential persists, alert school boards will soon hire none but women in order to save money.

Dr. M. R. Laurie Jetter said the men who feel superior to women are afraid to acknowledge the equality of women.

Second Shift Will Start At Veneer Plant Monday

A second shift of construction men will begin work Monday at the $2,000,000 green veneer plant under construction for B.C. Forest Products Ltd. in Victoria.

Another 15 carpenters will be hired for the shift, Walter Wishart, president of B.C. Contractors Ltd., said yesterday. The men will be hired through the Victoria local of the Carpenters and Joiners' local (A.F.L.-T.L.C.). The union reported it expects no difficulty in filling the positions.

The second shift will be used to complete construction. The plant is expected to be finished and ready for operation by the first of December for green veneer production.

In charge of plywood operations in Victoria for the company is Rex Humphreys.

About 50 men will be employed in the plant.

Fire Victims Gain Little From Drive

Results of the shower given by Langford residents for fire victims, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Valcourt, were not too good according to convener of the affair, Mrs. James Fitzgerald.

On September 26, Mr. and Mrs. Valcourt lost everything but their lives when fire destroyed their home.

Langford residents began a fund to provide the Valcourts with household necessities and clothing, and a number of city department stores offered to help out.

"So far this is what we have received," said Mrs. Fitzgerald. "Eaton's are furnishing a bedroom, Standard Furniture have given $100 in scrip and the Beaver Club of the Hudson Bay Co. have donated five boxes of groceries. The rest are still promises."

"There has been no gesture of any kind from the Red Cross, the Community Chest or any welfare organization."

Mrs. Fitzgerald said about 50 people attended the shower.

Citizen Editor To Speak Here

Charles J. Woodsworth, editor of The Ottawa Citizen, will be guest speaker at a Canadian Club luncheon at the Empress Hotel Oct. 19. He will speak on "Some Canadian Reflections on the World Scene."

Mr. Woodsworth has traveled widely in Europe and the Far East and is recognized as one of the leading Canadian authorities on the Far East. Between 1941 and 1946 he was in India, Ceylon and Singapore attached to the staff of the British Ministry of Information. Last year he visited the Middle East and was a member of the Canadian delegation to the Institute of Pacific Relations Conference at Lucknow.

Then he made a world tour, visiting most countries in South East Asia, including Japan and Korea. In May of this year he visited France, Spain and the United Kingdom.
